From Stuart...

Greetings from Madagascar

Like many of you, I love journaling my walk with the Lord. Looking back over the year, reading and being reminded of God's faithfulness and lessons learnt, is something I especially love doing.

Reading through my journal for 2019, I am reminded of the many instances where ministry and life in general were hard. There were challenges and stretching times that weren't always expected or planned for. The beauty of keeping a journal, is that as well as recording the hard, the rejoicing gets recorded too. Am I the only one that needs reminding of this? I praise God as I read of the many ways our heavenly Father poured His grace and gave what was needed to fulfil His purposes and help in every situation I faced.

One reminder I am filled with praise for in 2019, is the opening of the Precept Madagascar office. I am blown away that we are now busy with the first ever 2-week session at the Precept Institute here in Madagascar. God has caused such unbelievable growth in such a short space of time. Only God!

May we together, even in the midst of the busyness that lies ahead, carve out time to reflect and remember the WHO behind every WHAT of our 2019.

Back in The Camps

Our last Precept Institute session of 2019 with the South Sudan refugee pastors was, as usual, a highlight of the year. These church leaders are busy completing their 3-year course, which is equipping them for their great work in the camps. As a result of this Institute session, there will be 7,258 refugees studying God's Word.

Left: The top 3 students for this Institute session with Stuart and Bishop Joseph. The gentleman to the right of Stuart achieved an average of 95%. The other two scored 93%.

This is outstanding as English is not their heart language. These men worked hard and deserve to be honoured.

FREE PRECEPT DISCOVERY STUDY

1 Thessalonians 1:1-7

This Precept Discovery study takes 15-20 minutes & explores how the Thessalonians held firm to the gospel, even when surrounded by hostility. God's grace changed the way they lived every single day.
